

ACCESS STRATEGIES BY LOCATION

-  BART Station to be developed
-  BART Station
-  Central Core
-  Inner Ring
-  Outer Ring
-  Elevation Contour

Sources: BART, 2021

- Biking and walking improvements in the station area and along connecting streets, particularly east-west connections, to serve riders who walk and bike to this station (43%) and to encourage more riders to do the same.

- Bus service improvements to and from BART to serve riders who take the bus (1% to North Berkeley; 10% to Downtown Berkeley) and to encourage more riders to do the same.
- Biking or taking the bus to another BART station for those who live closer to El Cerrito Plaza or Downtown Berkeley.
- Taking other transit to destinations, such as transbay bus service.
- Parking at or near other BART stations, like Downtown Berkeley.

- Biking and walking improvements in the station area and along connecting streets to serve BART riders who walk and bike to this station (57%) and to encourage more riders to do the same.

- Parking near this station by paying for on-street parking.

- Biking and walking improvements in the station area and along connecting streets to serve riders who walk and bike to this station (70%) and to encourage more riders to do the same.
- Biking or taking the bus to another BART station for those who live closer to Downtown Berkeley, MacArthur, or Rockridge.
- Taking other transit to destinations, such as transbay bus service.
- Parking at or near other BART stations, like Downtown Berkeley.

- Bus service improvements to and from BART to serve riders who take the bus (4% to this station) and to encourage more riders to do the same. About 9% of those who drive and park could get to El Cerrito del Norte or Downtown Berkeley by bus in the same amount of travel time as by car.
- Taking other transit to destinations, such as transbay bus service.
- Parking at or near other BART stations, like El Cerrito del Norte or Richmond.

- Parking near this station by paying for on-street parking.

1 Mile